Hunter Douglas adds a new dimension to the world of window treatments through the originality and design of CADENCE® Soft Vertical Blinds. Its patented curved profile and innovative form gives your window treatment a soft look. The Cadence Collection features the Softex™ finishing process to create a soft look and feel and the Lutex™ finishing process which adds a unique translucent quality and provides a sheer look to your blinds. This exclusive collection features a variety of styles each with its own unique color palette, offering different choices of finished patterns and also includes the new DualFold™ Valance, the Paramount® Contoured Headrail System with SoftSuede® color options and the PermaTilt® Wand Control Unit. These standard features work together to create seamless elegance and when combined with the Fabric By The Yard program enhance any style of room. Cadence® also allows you the flexibility to control your view. By selecting the louver orientation, you can determine your view from the inside/out as well as your light direction from the outside in. All of Cadence Soft Vertical Blinds offer translucency levels of semi-private to total privacy. Our Cadence Collection is sure to express a warm feel through its curved design, compliment your style and accent your home with a soft touch.

The DualFold Valance features molded corners and curved edges to add a finishing touch to your window.
